

CHATBOT WARNING MESSAGE

The chatbot is an application designed solely for providing general information. It should not be used in any way to obtain advice in legal, medical, financial, political, ethical, or other professional fields. The responses provided are generated based on patterns and relationships identified in large text data sets and may not always be accurate, complete, uninterrupted, or up-to-date. Cerebrum provides the chatbot "AS IS" and does not guarantee or promise the accuracy, flawlessness, reliability, completeness, or that it will fully meet the users' special needs for any information obtained through the application. Cerebrum assumes no responsibility for any errors or omissions in the information provided. For more information, please review the User Agreement.

If you require information on any subject that requires legal, medical, financial, political, ethical, or other professional knowledge, you should consult a qualified expert who can provide advice on the matter.

Please ensure that the personal information you share with the chatbot does not include any of the following special categories of personal data:

- race,
- ethnic origin,
- political beliefs,
- philosophical beliefs,
- religion, sect, or other beliefs,
- dress and appearance,
- membership of associations, foundations, or unions,
- health, data related to sexual life,
- data related to criminal convictions and security measures,
- biometric and genetic data.

For detailed information on the processing of your personal data, please review our Privacy Policy.
